Description

Crabbie's Ginger Beer

This is an unique alcoholic ginger flavoured beer from Scotland, very well balanced, both sweet and spicy to the mouth. In 1801, John Crabbie acquired a former porter brewery in the nearby port of Leith, Edinburgh. This port provided him access to ingredients from many nations, which included carefully selected ginger from the Far East. He sourced the finest exotic spices; starting a legacy that would last for generations to come. This is one of the highest selling drinks in The United Kingdom, and it is currently being sold in more than 30 countries.

How it is made

Crabbie's Original Alcoholic Ginger Beer is made with 4 secret ingredients along with ginger from the Far East and left to mature for six weeks. The process brings forth all of its aroma and flavour.

Tasting notes

Amber colour with pale yellow hues, topped by white creamy foam. Blend of ginger flavour and exotic spices. Best served chilled with ice and lime or lemon. 4% ABV.
